Your service plan lists the things that you want help with so that you can live your life.

The services in a service plan might be things like
- someone to help you cook
- someone to help you with your medication
- someone that drives you to work

One service you can list in your service plan is group employment supports. This is sometimes called group employment or an enclave.

Group employment supports can help you learn new job skills that can help you get a job in the community.
Group Employment Support is when you work with a small group of other people. You may work at one place or go to many different places to work.

Staff members may be there to help you while you work. They can help you learn how to do your job and help you when you need it.

If you would like to know more about group employment supports, contact your Service and Support Administrator or your SSA.

If you are not sure who your SSA is, read Your Service and Support Administrator, an Easy Read Guide.
